

Aurora Public Library District

MAY 2026

414 Second Street, Aurora, IN 47001

812-926-0646

eapld.org

The Dillsboro Library will be closed May 11th - 27th to finish up construction and move everything back into place!

All buildings will be closed on Monday, May 25th for Memorial Day!

Items can be returned in the bookdrops outside of the Aurora or Dillsboro Libraries while we're closed.

Our brick walkways are growing! Years ago, many of you helped build these paths, and now we're bringing back the chance to "buy a brick".

We'll be adding bricks to the existing walkways at the Aurora and Dillsboro buildings and creating a brand-new one at the Depot.

For $100, you can have your name engraved and become a lasting part of our community.

We'll have more information on how to purchase your brick soon, so stay tuned!

A Note From Our Director

An author I have enjoyed reading lately is Adam Grant who explores motivation and the psychology of self-improvement. Hidden Potential is one of his books that explores how people can find untapped avenues to success which reminded me a lot of the projects APLD has been tackling: expanding offerings at DPL; developing space at the Depot with the Caboose addition, and launching the APLD app. All ways we are seeking to improve patron experience at APLD. Follow our social media on Facebook, Instagram, and TikTok—or check out our website at eapld.org to join us for every step in this discovery of our potential.

Dillsboro Building Project Update

We are almost to the finish line of our Dillsboro Building Project! The library will be closed May 11th through May 27th to allow our movers to return materials from storage and for staff to reshelve collections and prepare the new space. The last day to check out items and pick up holds before the closure is Saturday, May 9th.

We will reopen on Thursday, May 28th with full use of the building. Upon reopening, please use the exterior book drop attached to the building for returns and enter through the main entrance.

While a few construction and landscaping projects will continue after reopening, we do not anticipate any additional closures as a result. A grand reopening event will be announced once all remaining work is complete. Please stay tuned for more details!

We sincerely appreciate your patience and support throughout this project and look forward to welcoming you into the newly completed space.

This renovation will include:

- A larger children's area
- Meeting and study rooms
- A new teen room
- A cozy reading room with a fireplace
- An outdoor seating area
- An attached garage for our incoming bookmobile

Scan the QR code to follow along with us!

The Pulitzer Prizes

May is an exciting time if you're a bookworm waiting for the next great American novel.

The Pulitzer Prize for Fiction recognizes distinguished fiction by an American author, preferably dealing with American life. This year's finalists will be announced in early May.

Readers are currently debating "ones to watch" for the 2026 Fiction prize. Early favorites include Lily King's Heart the Lover, and Audition by Katie Kitamura.

Other strong contenders highlighted by critics include Flashlight by Susan Choy and A Guardian and a Thief by Megha Majumdar

Key contenders often focus on intense human experience, historical re-examinations, and intricate storytelling.

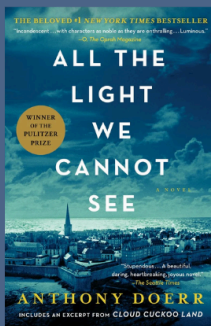

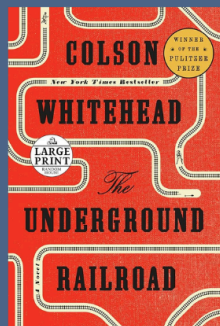

Without even purposefully looking for a prize winner, you have probably read one or watched a screen adaptation of a Pulitzer prize winner for fiction.

- o 1920 Edith Wharton - The Age of Innocence
- o 1931 Pearl S. Buck - The Good Earth
- o 1936 Margaret Mitchell - Gone with the Wind
- o 1960 Harper Lee - To Kill a Mockingbird
- o 2009 Elizabeth Strout - Olive Kitteridge
- o 2014 Donna Tartt - The Goldfinch

And more recently-

- o Anthony Doerr - All the Light We Cannot See
- o Colson Whitehead - The Underground Railroad
- o Barbara Kingsolver - Demon Copperhead
- o Percival Everett's - James.
